Canada should move to a national pharmacare program. Other Medicare countries have it. Royal commissions have recommended it, and studies have shown it would save us billions of dollars through bulk buying our drugs. And this way, everyone can afford the drugs they need.	76%	85%	73%	75%	81%	73%	76%	81%	76%	77%	71%	75%	81%	77%	68%	74%	76%	81%	81%	75%	77%	78%	78%	76%	71%	78%	67%	84%	83%	74%	80%	89%	75%
Canada should keep things as they are, with individuals and companies buying their own drug insurance, and some programs to help the very poor and elderly. There is no need to make a big change like this. And reducing the amount Canadians spend on medicine will reduce the amount that the pharmaceutical companies spend on research to find new cures.	24%	15%	27%	25%	19%	27%	24%	19%	24%	23%	29%	25%	19%	23%	32%	26%	24%	19%	19%	25%	23%	22%	22%	24%	29%	22%	33%	16%	17%	26%	20%	11%	25%
