

QM1.Base=All*Single choice grid

Here are some statements about Canada's military. For each, please tell us whether you agree or disagree:

[Randomize]

I feel proud when I think of Canada's armed forces

There is a culture of disrespect towards women in Canada's military

I would discourage a woman I cared about from pursuing a career in the Canadian military

Strongly agree

Agree

Disagree

Strongly disagree

QM2Base=All*Single choice

Recently, there has been discussion about how the Liberal government handled allegations of sexual misconduct against former Canadian Armed Forces general Jonathan Vance.

The allegations were first made in 2018. Prime Minister Justin Trudeau and Defence Minister Harjit Sajjan have said they did not know about the allegations. Opposition parties and others say the Prime Minister, the PM's staff, and the Defence Minister could and should have done more to investigate.

How closely, if at all, have you been following this issue?

Read/saw stories about it and discussed it with friends and/or family

Saw a story or two, and had the odd conversation about it

Just scanned/saw the headlines

Not read/seen anything at all until now

QM3.Base=Top Three in QM2*Single choice

And based on what you've seen, read, or heard about this issue, including in this survey, which view is closest to your own:

[ROTATE]

This issue is serious and significant

This issue has been overblown by the media and opposition parties

Not sure/Can't say

QM4.

Base=All

Single choice

And thinking about this issue, how would you assess what has come to light so far? Would you say each of the following people has been transparent and honest, or has held back critical information?

[ROTATE]

Prime Minister Trudeau

Defense Minister Sajjan

PM's Chief of Staff Katie Telford

Has been transparent and honest

Has held back critical information

Not sure/Can't say

QM5.

Base=All

Single choice

In addition to the Vance situation, other revelations have come to light regarding sexual misconduct allegations against former chief of the defense staff, Admiral Art McDonald, as well as other military officials.

Some people say such allegations against former military leaders is a sign of systemic problem with the way the Canadian military handles sexual misconduct within its ranks

Other people say these are isolated incidents and do not reflect a problem with the way the Canadian military handles sexual misconduct allegations. Which statement is closest to your own point of view?

The allegations reflect a systemic problem with the way Canada's military handles sexual misconduct
The allegations reflect isolated incidents and is not a sign of a systemic problem

QM6.

Base=All

Single choice

Do you agree or disagree with the following statement?

I'm confident the military will handle complaints of sexual harassment and sexual assault in its ranks appropriately going forward