As you may have heard, the government of Alberta has announced a six-month moratorium on renewable electricity projects. The government said the pause is to address concerns about renewable energy's reliability and replacing valuable farmland with solar projects and wind farms.

In your opinion, do you think this moratorium is...

QA2.

Base=Alberta only

Single choice

Do you agree or disagree with the following statements:

[Randomize]

Solar and wind energy are not reliable enough to power a future energy grid

Alberta is right to resist the federal government's push to net zero

The government is hurting jobs and the economy by stopping renewable energy development

The moratorium on renewable energy will only further increase power prices in the province
